The Theme of the Conference

The goal of the conference is to popularize some new horizons of Statistics and in that way to bridge the gap between the theory and practice of Statistics. It will provide a forum for technical interactions between academic researchers and practicing statisticians.

The scope of the conference is not limited to some particular areas of Statistics. Interesting, topical, and revelatory applications of Statistics in, for example, Medicine and Health, Industry, Economics and Finance, Education and Teaching, Physical and Biomedical Sciences, Environment, Demography, Psychology, Sociology, and Sport, etc will be considered for presentation and discussion. There will be keynote address, invited talks, and contributory papers.

Call for Papers

Researchers and practicing statisticians are invited to contribute their papers and send the abstracts to ncnhs2013@gmail.com before the scheduled date. The abstract should clearly mention the research problem, methodology, findings, limitations, and scope.

Abstracts will be peer reviewed and selection of the papers will be strictly based on the recommendation of the review committee. Please prepare the abstract in MS WORD as per the following format.

Title : Capitalize each word
Author(s) : Type all authors' names, their affiliations, and email IDs.
Abstract Body : Should contain 100 to 200 words
